

I am a Geography and Planning student at the University of Birmingham. I am currently writing my dissertation on how the built environment of Birmingham makes women feel unsafe and vulnerable. I have been looking at the crime map of Birmingham, although very helpful it does not differentiate between crimes against women and men. For the purpose of this dissertation I am only interested on sexual offences against women in the city centre and I was wondering whether you would have these statistics that you could pass onto me.

I would appreciate if you could send me the stats of sexual harassment in public space in the year of 2016. If there's a breakdown of different types of harassment within that, that would be great as well as the location within the city centre (as the crime map shows on police uk)
