

-How many reports have you received of imposters or fraudsters posing as police officers or staff since November 2012?

-How many reports resulted in a charge and how many in a conviction?

-How many reports involved an element of digital fraud?

Would you please break the information down year by year.

The information for this request has been extracted from our Custody database. Each custody record represents one arrest reason (specified offence), not one arrest made by an officer. There are some instances where one person has been arrested for multiple offences at the same time hence they have multiple custody records. The figures on custody records below relate to arrests made on 43 different occasions.
