

REQUEST

For Coventry officers on response teams, how often the shift pattern is likely to change? Are there any plans for the rest day pattern to change within the next two years?

How much notice would be given for such a change?

The RS shift pattern as a whole has recently been through a comprehensive review process. There are currently no plans to amend these patterns further.

Should such a change occur, 90 days notice as a minimum would be given.

Are officer training days between Monday to Friday, or do they extend according to shift pattern?

Officer training days are MON-FRI 0800-1600.

How long in advance can officers see their shift pattern?

Officers can see their shift patterns 90 days in advance upon request or 28 days in advance on our internal intranet Blue pages system
