How many police sergeants in your force have passed the Inspectors' Ospre Part 1 and 2 exams, or work-based equivalents, but have not yet been substantively promoted to the rank of inspector?

The Number of Police sergeants in our force who have passed the Inspectors' Ospre 2 exams and qualified, but have not yet been substantively promoted to the rank of inspector is 225. We have 1 Sergeant who is showing as a Temporary Inspector.

Please include in your answer constables and sergeants who have temporarily taken on the roles of 'acting sergeant' or 'acting inspector' but who have not been promoted to substantive sergeant or substantive inspector.

We do not hold data for acting positions on our HR system. Some of the above numbers include those qualified since 1989 for constables and 1991 for sergeants.
