In order to locate and retrieve data in relation to white victims would exceed the FOI time limit. The number of victims is too high, for example someone who was a victim on 01 Jan 2017 might have also been a victim in 2015 – but that would mean we would have to search back into previous years to find this out, which would take us over the FOI time limit. We would have to run rolling 24 month searches one month at a time in order to locate and retrieve this information.
