

1/ Can you tell me which, educational or otherwise, driving courses West Midlands Police can send a driver on.

The courses that West Midlands Police send drivers on are: National Speed Awareness (NSAC), National Motorway Awareness (NMAC), What's Driving Us (WDU), Safe and Considerate Driving (SCD) and National Rider Risk Awareness Course (NRRAC)

2/ Can you tell me how much each of these courses cost and how much of that money West Midlands Police get/retain (or if there's any payment of any kind resulting from a driver/drivers being sent on these courses).

The costs of the course is as follows: NSAC - £88.00, NMAC - £88.00, WDU – £88.00, SCD - £88.00, NRRAC - £88.00.
Each police force receives £45.00 as a cost recovery for the administration of the scheme.

3/ Can you also tell me how many drivers have been sent on the various courses from question number one in the last 12 months and the total amount paid to West Midlands Police as a result of this for the same time period.
